INDEX

TO

VOLUME II., MDCCCXXX—XXXI.

A

Abernethy, Mr., notice of the death of, 121; on the eccentricity of, 480.

Abortion, case of obliteration of the vagina, produced by the injection of sulphuric acid, in an attempt to procure, 38.

Abuses at Guy's Hospital, 191; in the office of parish doctor, 532; gross, non-medical coroners, 630; at the Jervis Street Hospital, 633; in the Court of Admiralty, 759.

Acetic acid, M. Orfila on the poisonous qualities of, 714; experiments with, on dogs, 715; case of poisoning by, 715.

Acupuncturation in rheumatic affections, Dr. Banks on, 129.

Adelphi, inquest in the, 631.

Admiralty, corruption in the, 759.

Adulterations of strychnine, M. Robiquet on the, 6; of some essential oils, mode of detecting, 7.

Agaric, white, use of the, in nocturnal perspirations, 316.

Ague, strong mental and physical exertions, as a remedy for, 39; Dr. Elliotson on two cases of, 294.

Alcohol, effects of the injection of, into the veins of a horse, 76; treatment of a case of poisoning by, 232.

Alexander, Dr., case of puerperal fever by, with remarks, 1.

Alison, Dr., on the identity of the nervous with the galvanic fluid, 538.

Alkalies, vegetable, M. Senellas on the iodates, bromates, and chlorates of, 4.

Alpha on the cholera, 769.

Amaurosis, case of, 159.

Ammon, Dr. Von, review of his Journal of Ophthalmology, 326.

Amputation, partial, of the foot, case of, by Mr. Syme, 99; of both legs, after mortification, by Mr. Mayo, 158; of the femur, by Mr. Earle, for fungus hæmatodes, 350; by Dr. Bryce, at the shoulder-joint, 741; of the head and two inches of the shaft of the humerus, 742; of the thigh, at the hip-joint, 742.

Anatomical preparations, newly imported, 125; a new mode of preserving, by Mr. Watson, 129; and obstetric machinery, 285.

Anatomy, proofs of its importance, 668.

Aneurism, pathology of, 151; of the aorta, Dr. Elliotson on, 134; popliteal and femoral, case of, at the Aberdeen Hospital, 158; diffuse, false, Mr. J. Bell's case of, 804.

Animal matter, on the effects of the effluvium of, 321, 353.

Animals, parasitic, physiology of, 411.

Animal magnetism, report from the French Academy on, 573.

Anus, imperforate, Mr. Thomas's case, 730.

Aorta, Dr. Elliotson on aneurism of the, 134; case of spontaneous rupture of the, related by Dr. Hume, 227.

Apostacy of Mr. Lawrence, letter from a disbeliever in the, 503.

Apothecaries, comparative proportion of, in France and Prussia, 78.

Apothecaries' Company, Editor's remarks on the conduct of the, in the prosecution of Mr. Ryan, 18; report of evidence adduced by the, on the trial against Mr. Ryan, 19; despicable conduct of the, towards Mr. Ryan, 49; at Dublin, appeal to the students in pharmacy throughout Ireland, 48; rules adopted by, in the recognition of medical lecturers, 111; further remarks on the prosecution of Mr. Ryan by the, 113; motion of Mr. Ryan in the Court of King's Bench, for a rule to show cause why the verdict against him should not be set aside, 120; further observations by the Editor on this action, 145; letter from "Apis," in defence of, 205; Editor's remarks upon, 211; trial of Mr. Greenwood by the, 337; report of trial instituted by, against Mr. Fry, for fraud, 503; note from Mr. Watson respecting, 633.

Apothecaries' Act, happy decision of Lord Tenterden, relating to, 339; the declaratory Act, 347; remarks by the Editor on the anomalous judgments delivered in our courts of law, under the, 376.

Apothecaries and physicians, remarks on the alleged distinctions between, 414; remarks on the unjust attempt to establish distinctions amongst, 329.

Arm, preservation of the, after the destruction of the head of the humerus by a bullet, 232; Dr. Kingsley on, 641.

Armstrong, Dr., the late, remarks on the efforts of, in favour of surgical reform, 401; his history of the persecution of the late Mr. Bennett by the College Council; remarks of, on the case of Mr. Kiernan, 437.

Army assistant surgeons, claims of, 634.
Arsenic, cases of poisoning by, related by M. Ornia, 318; Mr. Kerr on the treatment of poisoning by, 580.
Ascarides, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 293.
Asparagus, sedative effects of the, 77.
Asphyxia, essay on, by Mr. J. Thomas, 779, 814.
Atomic theory, observations on the, 35.
Atrophy, Dr. Corbet's case of, 427.
Auscultation, review of Spittal's treatise on, 618.
Averrhoes, life of, 484.
Avicenna, life of, 483.

B

Balloon ascent of Dr. Forster, 356.
Bancroft, Dr., on the innocuous effects of the exhalations from putrid animal substances, 321, 355.
Banks, Dr., on acupuncturation in rheumatic affections, 129.
Barbadoes rock oil, use of, as stopping for horses' feet, 62; account of, 394, 478.
Barlow, Dr., opinions of, on the derangements of health incidental to lateral curvature, 540; account of a remarkable change in the appearance of a tape-worm by, 622.
Barry and Russel, Drs., description of the European cholera by, 712.
Beale on Distortions of the Spine, review of, 544.
Beaumont, Dr., speech of, at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 218.
Bell, G. H., review of, on Cholera Asphyxia, 513; Thos., review of, on the Teeth, 615; Mr. B., the late, misquotation from, 752; Mr. John, case of diffuse false aneurism related by, 804.
Belladonna, effects of, in spasmodic stricture of the urethra, 41.
Bennett, Professor, death of, 149, 542; bust to the memory of, 192, 224; note from, 213; library of, 252; Dr. Armstrong's history of the persecution of, by the College Council, 403, 434; letter from Mr. Shea, relating to, 735.
Bermond, Dr., on the employment of Iodine in scrofulous diseases, 602.
Bile, M. Mattencci on the action of chlorine on the, 320.
Birkbeck, Dr., exculpation of, 250.
Birmingham School of Medicine, anniversary dinner of the, 442.
Blacklock, Mr. A., on inflation of the bowels as a remedy in constipation and intussusception, 227.
Blane, Sir Gilbert, on the state of health in the English navy, 10.
Blood, Mr. Gower on certain states of the, 393; Dr. Thackeray on the examination of the, in the vena portæ, 540.
Blood-vessels and capillaries, Dr. Hall on the distinctions between, 540.
Board of Health, remarks on the extraordinary appointments to the, 433; Sir J. M'Grigor and Orton's Treatise on Cholera, 476; recommendation of the establishment of local boards of health, 727; circular from the, 820.
Bond, Mr. H., letter from, 432.
Bone, Mr. Syme on the re-union of, in fracture, 97.
Boott, Dr., testimonial from the pupils of the Webb Street School to, 224.
Botany and physiology as a part of medical education, Dr. Howison on, 524.
Bowels, Mr. A. Blacklock on inflation of the, as a remedy in constipation and intussusception, 227; Dr. Elliotson on an extraordinary case of daily discharge of oil from, and of sugar from the urinary passages, 370.
Brady, Mr., note from, 707.
Brain, case of ramollissement of the, by Mr. F. Winslow, 29; loss of, with extensive fracture of the skull, case of, related by Mr. Rudkin, 312; Baron Larrey on the effects of a spear wound of the, 570; cases of excessive injury to the, by Mr. H. K. Randell, 598.
Bree, Mr. R., his defence of the students at the London University, 15.
Breschet, M., his case of carcinomatous ulcer of the eye cured by the use of the deuto-loduret of mercury, 607.
Brewer Street School of Anatomy, alleged neglect at, 64.
British College of Surgeons, defunct, application to, 346.
Brodie, Mr., defence of, against the assertions of Dr. Ramadge, 122.
Bronchi, Dr. Browne on foreign bodies in, 100.
Bronchitis, chronic, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 144, 201, 289; epidemic, appearance of in Paris, 438.
Brookes, Mr., proposal of a dinner to, 407; proceedings at the dinner given to, 440, 479.
Browne, Dr., on foreign bodies in the bronchi, 100.
Bryce, Dr. C., restoration of the under lip by, 269; cases of severe surgical operations related by, 741.
Burgess, Mr. J., severe case of cholera related by, 813.
Burnett, Sir William, proposed present to, 663, 664, 703, 732, 759, 797, 829.
Burns, Dr. Christison on the means of detecting whether the infliction of, has taken place before or after death, 102; and scalds, Mr. J. Thomas on the nature and treatment of, 554, 587; Dr. Jeffreys on operations for deformities caused by, 700.
Butter, Mr. G., letter from, in defence of Mr. Pattison, 763.

C

Calculus in the bladder, Mr. Costello's case of, in which lithotrity was successfully performed, 95, 362, 451, 583; Mr. Syme on the alleged effects of removing one, 99; unusual operation for, 100; extraction of, from the perineum by excision, 351; in the female speedily removed by Weiss's dilator, case of, 609.

Campbell, Mr. E. H., inquiry of, as to the occurrence of menstruation during hanging, 704.

Cancer of the tongue, Mr. Syme on excision for, 100.

Capillary and other blood-vessels, distinctions between the, 540.

Carbon, medicinal properties of the sulphuret of, 329.

Carbonate of ammonia, injection of the, into the veins of a horse, 76.

Carmichael, Mr., defence of, in reply to Ar. J.'s letter, 184, 230; rejoinder of Ar. J. to the defender of, 395; letter from, on medical education and government in Ireland, 460.

Caventou, M., his method of obtaining the crystallised iodnret of lead, 232.

Cerebellum, total absence of the, 171; effects of diseased testicle on the, 511.

Cervix uteri, Dr. Weatherill's case of excision of the, 526.

Charles I., Sir Henry Halford's account of the opening of the coffin of, 277.

Chatelet, M. Parent, review of, on the Effects of the Exhalations from Putrid Animal Substances, 321.

Chelsea parish abuses, 532, 634.

Chemists and druggists, propriety of legislative interference with, 476.

Chervin, M., proposal of, to determine the contagious nature of the cholera, 572.

Chilmock, Mr., cases of measles by, 104; on the pathology and treatment of measles, 108.

Chloride of lime, Mr. William Clough on the efficacy of, in gonorrhœa, 477.

Chlorine, case of tubercular consumption cured by the inhalation of, 169; Dr. Elliotson on the beneficial effects of inhaling in phthisis pulmonalis, 198; on the action of, on bile, 320; employment of the solution of, in scarlatina and small-pox, 329.

Chloruret of lime in gonorrhœa, 329.

Cholera, progress of the, in Poland, 237; sporadic, Bendyshe on the origin and treatment of, 258; medical mission to Poland and Russia to report on the, 286; analysis of Keraudren's memoir on the, 417; experiments on the mode of propagation of the, 421; observations by Dr. James Johnson on the, 422; recommendation of Orton's treatise on, by Sir James M'Grigor, 476; Indian, notice of Mr. White's treatise on the, 478; Asphyxia, review of Bell on, 513; English, case of, related by Dr. G. H. Roe, 536, 543; experiment to determine the contagious nature of the, by M. Chervin, 572; Dr. Strange's observations on the, 644; Mr. Garner on the administration of prussic acid in, 650; Mr. Wilson's cases of, 657; Mr. Curtis on the efficacy of prussic acid in, 608; review of Dr. B. Hawkins's History of, 708; Drs. Barry and Russel's description of, 712; extract from Mr. Searle's pamphlet on, 767; remarks on, by a Birmingham physician, 769; remarks on the use of opium and the mustard cataplasm in cases of, 792; review of Dr. Macmichael's treatise on, 801; Mr. E. Waring on the treatment of, 809; remarks of Mr. H. K. Randell on the existence of, in England, with cases, 811; severe case of, related by Mr. J. Burgess, 813.

Christison, Dr., on poisoning by sulphuric acid, 101; on the means of detecting whether burns have been inflicted before or after death, 103.

Chronic injuries, pain succeeding, 737.

Civiale, M., report of, on lithotrity, 229.

Clapham, occurrences at Mr. Day's school at, 361.

Clarke, Mr., new and cheap formula by, for the preparation of medicinal prussic acid, 225, 473, 562.

Clay, Mr. H., case of strangulated femoral hernia, related by, 790.

Clough, Mr., on the efficacy of the chloride of lime in gonorrhœa, 477.

Clot, M., case of successful removal of a tumour of the scrotum by, 825.

Cocks on the Brain, &c., review of, 678.

Cold, Mr. Thomas on death from, 816.

Colic, case of, from working in copper, 233.

College of Physicians, sudden eclipse at the, 23.

College of Surgeons, anecdote relating to the origin of the, 24; crafty conduct of the Council of the, and their reception by his Majesty, 49; letter in The Times from "Machaon," on the conduct of the Council of the, 51; further disgraceful proceedings of the Council of the, 52; remarks on the intentions of the Council, to attempt to expel the Editor of THE LANCET, 81; discontinuance of the lectures at the, 83; Council, remarks on the culpable supineness of the, in reference to the prosecution of Mr. Ryan, 113; law proceedings of the Council of the, 185; letter from Mr. J. Green on the members and position of the members of, 222; Editor's remarks on the late proceedings instituted by the Council of, 505; proofs that the members have equal legal rights in the College property with the Council themselves, 508; in Dublin, letter from a member to the president of the, 342; Dr. Armstrong's history of the persecution of the late Mr. Bennett by, 403, 434; remarks on the interested motives which influenced the Council of the, in their proceedings in the case of Mr. Kiernan, 466; persecution of Mr. Grainger by the Council of the, 467; remarks on Mr. Green's machinations of the, 570; slanderous report that Mr. Wakley had apologised to the Council of the, 658; remarks on the absurdity and injustice of Mr. Green's plan of reforming, 658.

Colleges, Editor's remarks on the exposed weakened, and despised, 818.

Collier, Dr., controversy of, with Mr. Simpson, 563, 604, 635, 670.

Columbine, Mr. Wittstock on the new crystalline substance called, 6.

Concours for a professor in Paris, 284.

Constipation, Mr. Blacklock on inflation of the bowels as a remedy for, 227.

Convulsions from teething, 390.

Cooke, Mr., on the occurrence of menstruation during hanging, 751.

Cooper, Sir Astley, letter from Professor Delpech to, on the fatal operation on Hoo Loo, 439.

Cooper, Mr. S., election of, to the surgical chair of the London University, 695; Cooper, Mr. G., card of, 752, 797.

Corbett, Dr., on government obstructions to the circulation of scientific periodicals, 734; case of atrophy by, 427.

Coroner, vacancy in the office of, for the county of Gloucester, 85; illegal act of one, in the county of Derby, 112; conduct of, at a late inquest, 606.

Coroners, non-medical, gross abuses sanctioned by, 630; court, necessity for reform in the, 630.

Corrigan, Dr., lecture on spinal irritation by, 103.

Costello, Mr., on the parallel between lithotrity and lithotomy, with cases in illustration, 93, 362, 467, 583; argument against the liability of stone to recur after the operation of lithotrity, 173; compliment to, 526.

Cottereau, Dr., on the inhalation of chlorine in ophthisis, 109; on the employment of the iodaret of lead in the treatment of scrofulous and scirrhous tumours, 607; on a case of latent chronic gastritis, simulating organic disease of the heart, 668.

Croe's Lectiones Celsianæ, review of, 86.

Cunningham, Lord, letter from, 435.

Cupper, election of, to the Middlesex Hospital, 799.

Cupping, review of Knox on the Art of, 340; glasses, exhaustion of, 447.

Curtis, Mr., letter from, on medical remuneration, 286; on the utility of prussic acid in English ciders, 698.

Curvature, lateral, Dr. Barlow on the derangements of health incidental to, 516; Beale on a case of, arising from the thickening and diminished tenacity of the fibro-cartilages of the dorsal and lumbar vertebræ, 548; slight, of the lumbar vertebræ, Beale on disorder arising from, 550.

Cutaneous diseases, Dr. Jeffreys on the employment of iodine in, 8.

Cyanide of potassium, preparation of, 688.

D

Davies translation of Edwards' and Vavasseur's Manual of Materia Medica and Pharmacy, review of, 580.

Davis's, Prof., annual report of the medical school of the London University, 270.

Deafness, Dr. Fosbroke on the pathology and treatment of, 58, 69; Mr. Wright's remarks on Dr. Fosbroke's papers on, 412, 464, 623.

Delirium Tremens, Dr. Schmidt on, 257; Mr. Evans's case, 336; Mr. Thomas's case, 522.

Delpech, Professor, of Montpellier, letter from, to Sir Astley Cooper, on the operation on Hoo Loo, 439.

Dental surgery, quackeries in, 764.

Derby, inquest in the county of, 112.

Dermott, Mr. G. D., reply of, to Mr. Dobson, on the action of the heart, 18; speech of, at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 212; on the theory of the non-identity of the nervous and electrical fluids, 728, 773.

De Vitre, Dr., case of fungus hæmatodes of the spermatic chord, related by, 228.

Diarrhœa, Mr. Gower on, 302.

Dieffenbach, Dr., sketch of, 237.

Dinner, anniversary, of the Webb Street School, 30; to Mr. Brookes, proposed, 407; proceedings at, 440; anniversary of the Birmingham School, 442.

Dislocations, old unreduced, Professor Lawrie on the treatment of, 296; of the hearty Dr. Stokes on a case of, 570; of the head of the radius forwards, Mr. Whittaker's case of, 808.

Distinction without Separation, Remarks on Mr. J. H. Green's views of surgical reform, as contained in his pamphlet so entitled, 567.

Doctor, adoption of the title of, by the members of the London College of Medicine, 162; objections to the universal adoption of, 687.

Donders, Mr., on the connexion between physicians and druggists, 315; reply to, 795.
Dreadnought hospital, description of, 672.
Dropsy, Mr. J. D. Hepworth on the efficacy of the chloride of soda in, 250.
Drowning, detection of the periods of, 486.
Druggists and physicians, on the connexion between, 313, 382, 795.
Dub, an exclusive one, 335.
Dublin, meeting of the physicians in, to take into consideration the alteration of medical fees, 128; medical apprenticeship, controversy respecting, 184, 395; medical fees in, remarks on, 255; College of Surgeons, letter to the president of, 342.
Duncan, Dr., on the singular properties of mudarine, 641.
Dunn, Mr., note from, 663.
Dupuy, M., on the injection of tartar-emetic, alcohol, and carbonate of ammonia, into the veins of a horse, 76.
Dupuytren, M., encysted tumour of the breast mistaken for scirrhus by, 236.
Dye, new red, discovery of a, 149; grey, new method of producing, 230.

E

East India Company's Service, regulations for the admission of assistant-surgeons into the, 477.
Edinburgh Medical and Surgical Journal for April, 1831, review of, 97, 577; distribution of prizes at, 149.
Ekdell, Mr., letter from, respecting Professor Pattison, 763.
Eisenmann, M., on the employment of the solution of chlorine in small-pox and scarlatina, 229.
Elaterium, analysis of, 131.
Elbow-joint, excision of, 98.
Elliotson, Dr., clinical lectures delivered by, on cases occurring in St. Thomas's Hospital:—Case of miliary tubercles of the lungs and spleen, with pale fatty liver, 43; on the situation and structure of tubercles generally, 65; cases of porrigo decalvans, lepra, and rheumatic odontalgia, 97; on undrinism of the aorta, 184; extraordinary case of monomania, 185; remarks by, on the truth of phrenology, 194; on cases of insanity, 143; on chronic peritonitis and bronchitis, 144; on neuralgia of the heart, 145; on phthisis pulmonalis, and the beneficial effects resulting from the inhalation of chlorine, 198; on cases of erysipelas of the head, and hepatitis, 200; cases of acuto-chronic bronchitis, with deformity, and syphilitic rheumatism, 201; acute rheumatism, inflammatory rheumatism; power of hydrocyanic acid to stop vomiting induced by colchicum; scrofulous deposition in the mesenteric glands; ulceration of the intestines, 202; chronic disease of the larynx, 203; disease of the heart, 205; on cases of hysteritis and acuto-chronic bronchitis, with violent spasmodic cough, 280; icterus and ovarian dropsy; imperfect effects of friction with ointment of hydriodate of potass, 290; gastrodynia, cured by prussic acid, 291; chronic inflammation of the larynx, 292; ascarides, cure of, without any apparent discharge of them, acute rheumatism, 293; on cases of palsy of the wrists from lead, ague and simulated modification of ague, 294; three cases of rheumatism, effects of hydrocyanic acid in suppressing vomiting arising from the exhibition of colchicum, 295; cases of palpitation with dyspepsia, of epilepsy, fever, internal piles, psoriasis guttata, hypertrophy of the heart, pleuritis, acute rheumatism, paralysis agitans, erysipelas of the head, and epilepsy, 296; on St. Vitus's dance, 368; morbid sensibility of the retina, 369; on the corruption of medical terms, 366; an obscure case; case of fever and chronic dysentery, exhibiting the good effects of the sulphate of copper with opium, 367; extraordinary case of daily discharge of oil from the bowels and of sugar from the urinary passages, 370; case of hay fever, 371; concluding remarks to the course of clinical lectures, 373; election of, to the medical chair of the London University, 250.
Epilepsy, Dr. Elliotson, on cases of, 296, 297; Dr. Franklin's case of, successfully treated by iodine, 553; Dr. Sharkey's treatment of cases of, 695.
Epps, Dr., speech of, at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 214; on the London Vaccine Institutions, and controversy respecting, 331, 416, 473, 530, 574; life of the late Dr. Walker by, 488; on ill-prepared extracts, 561.
Erysipelas of the head, Dr. Elliotson on, 200, 296; epidemic, cases of, successfully treated by mercurial unctions, 638.
Evans, Mr., his case of delirium tremens successfully treated by opium, 397.
Evolution, spontaneous, Mr. Mees's case of, 80; Dr. Kingsley on, 541.
Excrescence, gonorrhœal, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 206.
Extracts, mis-preparation of, 661.
Eye, carcinomatous ulcer of, cured by the deuto-ioduret of mercury, 607.

F

Fats, new mode of purifying, 438.
Faure, M., sen., on the solidification of turpentine by calcined magnesia, 6.
Favell, Dr. F., case of mental derangement by, 314.
Febrile diseases, pathology of, 443.
Female, curious suspicion of one, 470.
Ferrall, Mr., on a case of abscess near the cæcum, 577.
Fever, puerperal, case of, by Dr. Alexander, with remarks, 1; intermittent, obstinate case of, cured by strong mental and physical exertions, 39; intermittent, Dr. Elliotson on two cases of, 294, 299, 307, 376; hay, case of, on a, 445.
Finch, Mr., chair invented by, for insane persons, 348.
Fletcher, Mr. R., review of his Medico-chirurgical Notes and Illustrations, 609; case of a nearly fatal hæmorrhage following an operation for prolapsus ani, by, 658; case of strangulated irreducible congenital hernia related by, in which the omentum was removed, 655.
Flour, admixture of nettle-seed with, 231.
Fœtus, Mr. H. Peacock on the size of the sanguineous particles in, 255.
Food, effects of sea-water on, 231.
Foot, partial amputation of, 99.
Forde, Mr. J., on the price of subjects in Paris, 348.
Forster, Dr., aerial ascent of, 256.
Forster, Mr., calculus removed by, with Weiss's dilator, 699.
Fosbroke, Dr., on the pathology and treatment of deafness, 58, 69.
Fox, Dr., on his stomach-pump, 507.
Foy, M., of Warsaw, experiments by, to determine the non-contagious nature of the cholera, 422.
Fracture, Mr. Syme on the re-union of bone in, 97; of the scapula, Mr. Syme's case of, 98; apparatus, recommendation of Mr. Neville's, 286; of the skull, with loss of brain, Mr. Rudkin's case of, 312; compound, of the neck of the femur related by Mr. Jerrard, 552; two cases of, related by Mr. Randell, 593, 595; of the skull, Mr. Prebble's case of, 701.
France and Prussia, proportion of apothecaries in, to the population, 78.
Franklin, Dr., case of epilepsy successfully treated with iodine by, 353.
Fraser, Mr. H., case of scrotal tumour of great magnitude, cured by, 297; questions relating to, on the Gibraltar fever, 86, 100.
Fruit, experiments on the ripening of, 78.
Fry, Mr., report of the trial instituted by Apothecaries' Company against, 503.
Fungus hæmatodes of the spermatic chord, case of, 228; of the femur, 350.

G

Gall-bladder, absence of, 38.
Galvanic and nervous fluids, objections to the identity of, 538.
Garner, Mr., on prussic acid in cholera, 650.
Gas works, natural, in New York, 78.
Gastritis, latent chronic, simulating organic disease of the heart, 605.
Gastrotomy, successful operation of, 424.
Gastrodynia, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, cured by prussic acid, 291.
Gee, Mr., on Mr. Waller's prize, 447.
General practitioners, Metropolitan Society of, letter from Mr. Bond relating to, 432.
Gervis, Mr., case of swelling aronnd the knee-joint successfully treated by, 492.
Glanders in the human subject, Mr. B. Hart on the appearances so called, 12, 253; supposed case of, related by Mr. Levison, 805.
Glandular and lymphatic system, Dr. Corbet's case of disease of, 427.
Glasgow Medical Journal for May, 1831, review of, 225.
Glottis, Mr. Fletcher on spasm of, 609.
Gonorrhœa successfully treated by the chloruret of lime, 329; Mr. H. Neill on the efficacy of the nitrate-of-silver ointment in, 523; Mr. Clough on the efficacy of the chloride of lime in, 477.
Goose grease, cases of poisoning by the sebacic acid of, 237.
Gout, Dr. Starkey's strictures on Sir H. Halford's lecture on, 425; Harvey's treatment of, 619.
Gourdin, Dr., on the sedative effects of asparagus, 77.
Gower, Mr. P. H., on the invention of the stomach-pump, 80.
Gower, Mr. S., professional reminiscences of, 300.
Gowry, Dr., case of paralysis agitans intermittens related by, 651.
Graham Island, notice of, by Mr. Osborne, 896.
Grainger, Mr., persecution of, by the College Council, 467.
Grand Jury Laws, exclusion of the members of the London College of Surgeons from public institutions in Ireland, by the, 799.
Gray, Mr., stomach-pump of, 288, 531.
Gray, Mr. S. F., review of the Treatise on Pharmacology by, 385.
Green, Mr. J., on the numbers and petition of the members of the College of Surgeons, 222.
Green, Mr. J. H., remarks on the pamphlet of, 280, 315; the Editor's remarks on, 310, 567, 598, 638, 797, 700.
Greenwood, Mr., remarks on the trial of, 537.

Gregory and Celsus, review of Leach's Selections from, 83.
Gregory, Dr., new mode of preparing morphia by, 130.
Grey dye, new method of producing, 230.
Griffin's Translation of Rose's Analytic Chemistry, review of, 33.
Groin, case of curious tumour in the, 317.
Gunshot wound of the skull, case of, related by Mr. H. K. Randell, 503.
Guthrie, Mr., broken promises of, 256, 313, 414, 416.
Guy's Hospital, complaints of a student against the surgeons of, 191.

H

Halford, Sir Henry, conduct of towards naval surgeons, 62; his account of the opening of the coffin of Charles I, 277, Dr. Sharkey's Strictures on his lectures on Gout.
Hall, Dr. Marshall, on the distinctions between capillary and other blood-vessels, 540; alleged connexion with a druggist, 686, 750.
Hamburgh Medical Association, review of the Transactions of, 257.
Hamilton's History of Medicine, review of, 485.
Hanging, occurrence of menstruation during, 704, 751, 803.
Harper, Mr., letter from, 799.
Hart, Mr. B., on supposed glanders in the human subject, 12, 253; on a "stopping" for horses feet, 63.
Harvey's Treatment of Gout, 619.
Hay fever, Dr. Elliotson on, 570; case of, by Mr. Prater, 445.
Hawkins's History of the Russian Cholera, review of, 708.
Head, Dr. Elliotson on a case of erysipelas of the, 200.
Healey, Mr., curious card of, 800.
Health, Sir Gilbert Blane on the state of, in the English navy, 40; innocuous effects of putrid animal substances on, 321, 353; Council of, at du Nord, 330.
Heart, Mr. Dermott on the action of, 10; neuralgia of, Dr. Elliotson on, 145; disease of, Dr. Elliotson on, 204; Dr. Nagle's Observations on the Motions and Sounds of, 261; hypertrophy of, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 296; Dr. Stokes on dislocation of, 679; case of latent chronic gastritis, simulating organic disease of the, 608.
Henry's analysis of mineral waters, 676.
Hepatitis, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 202.
Hepworth, Mr. J. D., on the chloride of soda in dropsy, 250.
Hernia, strangulated, Mr. Fletcher on the anomalies encountered in operations for, 610; fatal case of, at St. Bartholomew's, 636; irreducible congenital, case of, in which the testicle was distinguished externally, and the omentum removed, 655; folly of giving Epsom salts after an operation for, 674; case of strangulated femoral, relieved by Mr. H. Clay, 790.
Hip joint, amputation at the, 742.
Hodges, Mr. H., on jugular pulsation, 409; objections to the theory of, 559.
Hoo Loo, the Chinese peasant, operation on, for the removal of a tumour weighing 56 pounds, 86; remarks on the impropriety of the operation on, 83, 121; letter from Mr. W. Simpson on, 120; further remarks on the impropriety of the operation on, 121; Dr. Tilley's remarks on the operation on, 171; letter from Professor Delpech to Sir Astley Cooper on the operation on, 139.
Hooping-cough, theory of, 120; Mr. Whatton, on the pathology and treatment of, 520; query as to the utility of tracheotomy in, 704.
Horner, Mr. L., retirement of from the London University, 123.
Horses, Hart, Mr., on stopping for the feet of, 63; M. Dupuy, on the injection of tartar emetic, &c. into the veins of, 76.
Howison, Dr., remarks on vaccination by, 494; on botany and physiology, as a part of medical education, 524.
Human fat, on the use of, in the arts, 587.
Hume, Dr., case of spontaneous rupture of the aorta, related by, 227.
Humerus, destruction of the upper part of the, by a bullet, 232; removal of the head, and two inches of the shaft of, by Dr. C. Bryce, 742.
Hydrocephalus, with extraordinary precocity, Mr. Lyons' case of, 654, 807; Mr. F. Winslow's case of, 735.
Hydrocyanic acid, Dr. Elliotson on the efficacy of, in stopping vomiting induced by colchicum, when administered in acute rheumatism, 202.
Hydrophobia, fatal case of, at the Hotel-Dieu, 607.
Hydro-rachitis, Dr. Jeffrey's case of, 493.
Hysteria, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 289.

I

Icterus, Dr. Elliotson, on a case of, 200.
Imagination, effect of the, on a woman, 541.
Imperforate vagina, Mr. Fletcher's case of, 613; anus, case of, relieved by Mr. Thomas, 730.
Independence of feeling, want of, at the anniversary dinner of the Webb Street School, 23.
India, on the medical service of, 783.
Injuries, observations on chronic, again succeeding, 737.

Injury, excessive, of the head and brain, Mr. H. K. Randell's cases of, 593.
Inquest, cases of, at Leicester, at a midwife at, 41; at Ashbourne, in the county of Derby, the duties of a coroner at, 112; remarks on the conduct of a coroner at one, 660; at Liverpool, remarks on one, by Dr. Weatherill, 590; in the Adelphi, St. Clement's, and St. James's Workhouses, 931.
Invalid persons, safety-chair for, 348.
Insanity, Dr. Elliotson on cases of, 143.
Instruments employed in stricture of the œsophagus, Mr. R. Fletcher on the, 610; Mr. Pattison's, for the treatment of obstructions in the large intestine, 651.
Intoxication, excessive, produced by alcohol, treatment of, 232.
Intussusception, Mr. A. Blacklock on inflation of the bowels for, 227.
Invocation on the Lincoln's Inn Fields administration, 480.
Ipecacuanha, case of poisoning by the powdered root of, 38.
Iodine, Dr. F. Jeffreys on the employment of, in cutaneous diseases, 8; employment of the tincture of, in urethritis, 127; Sir Charles Scudamore on the inhalation of, in phthisis, 169; case of epilepsy, successfully treated with, by Dr. Franklin, 253; Dr. Bernhond on the employment of, in scrofulous diseases, 662; Dr. Lugol's cases illustrative of the powers of, in cutaneous scrofula, 684, 718.
Iodurets of iodine, medicinal use of the, in scrofulous affections, 127; simple method of obtaining the crystalised, by M. Caventou, 282; answer to an inquirer into the method of preparing the, 527; employment of the, in the treatment of scrofulous and scirrhous tumours, 607.

Jaw, case of extirpation of an osteo-sarcoma of the, 375.
Jeffreys, Dr. T., on the employment of iodine in cutaneous diseases, 8.
Jervis, Mr., singular case of disease of the tibia, related by, with remarks on the beneficial results arising from the use of his invalid bed, 652; case of compound fracture of the neck of the femur by, 652.
Jervis Street Hospital, cases at, 633.
Jordan's, Mr., Memoir on the Russian Cholera, review of, 421.
Johnson, Dr. James, observations on the statement by, 422; letter from, relative to Dr. Johnson's pamphlet, 767.
Joint, Dislocation of Syme on the Excision of, 705.
Jugular pulsation, Mr. Hodge's theory of, 409, 478, 539.
Juries, non-liability of medical men to serve on, 923.

K.

Keate, Mr., letter of, to Mr. King, 283.
Kent, Benevolent Medical Society, 814.
Kernahen on the Cholera, review of, 417.
Kerr, Mr., on the treatment of poisoning by arsenic, 560.
Kiernan, Mr., remarks on the late Dr. Armstrong, on the case of, 437; motives of the College Council in their proceedings against, 466.
King, Mr., notes from, 124, 238, 311; tribute from his pupils to, 192; speech of, at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 216; offer of, for the chair of surgery in the London University, 632.
Kingsley, Dr., on arm presentations and spontaneous evolution, 541.
Klimer, Dr., case of vomica by, 39.
Knee joint, case of swelling of the, successfully treated by Mr. Gervis, 492.
Knowledge, tax on, 574.
Knox on Cupping, review of, 240, 417.

L.

Labours, perplexing, Mr. Gower on, 390.
Laing, Dr., case of amaurosis by, 159.
Lambeth, proposal for a medical library and reading room at, 704, 767.
Lambert, Mr. W., on certain effects of hanging, 808.
Lanning, Mr., on the preparation of medicinal prussic acid and cyanide of potassium, 388, 563.
Larrey, Baron, his case of destruction of the head of the thumb-bone by a ball, 232; on the treatment of injuries, 588; case of hydrophobia by, in which six years occurred before the manifestation of hydrophobic symptoms, 590; spinal wound of the left parietal lobe of the brain, 810; on the effect of diseased testicle on the cerebellum, 811.
Laryngotomy, successful operation of, 317.
Laryngitis, acute, case of, in which the operation of laryngotomy was successfully performed, 317.
Larynx, chronic disease of the, Dr. Elliotson on, 203; inflammation of the, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 295.
Laurie, Professor, on the treatment of old dislocations, 926.
Lawrence, Mr., on secondary syphilis, 156; on the injudicious employment of calomel in a supposed case of hydrocephalus, 491; his never-to-be-forgotten speeches in 1826, 489; letter from a

Hodgkin, Dr., on the apostasy of, 203; Editor's remarks on the conduct of, in the cases of medical reform, 535.
Leach's Selections from Gregory and Celsus, review of, 85, 407.
Lead, medicinal use of the ioduret of, 127; simple method of obtaining the crystallised ioduret of, by M. Caventou, 232; palsy of the wrists from, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 294; mode of preparing the ioduret of, 432; employment of the ioduret of, in the treatment of scrofulous and scirrhous tumours, 607.
Lepra, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 87.
Levison, Mr. J. L., on the quarkeries of dental surgery, 764; on a supposed case of glanders in man, 805.
Lightning, Mr. Thomas on death from, 816.
Lime, gonorrhœa successfully treated with the chloriuret of, 329; chloride of, Mr. Clough on the efficacy of, in gonorrhœa, 477.
Lip, operation for the restoration of, 269.
Liston, Mr., complaint against, 432.
Lithotomy, operation for, by Mr. Syme, 99; unusual operation for, 100; Mr. R. Fletcher on death arising from violence in, 612.
Lithotrity, Mr. Costello on the parallel between it and lithotomy, 93, 173, 362, 457, 583; report of M. Civiale on, 229.
Liver, pale fatty, case of, 53.
Liverpool, remarks on an inquest at, 800.
London, want of urinals in, 112; medical schools, inquiries relating to, 766.
London College of Medicine, progress of, 52; announcement of a second meeting of the, 128; postponement of the second meeting of, 148; second meeting of the profession to receive the report of the committee of, 177; regulations to be adopted by, 178; principles of, 361; adoption at the title of Doctor by the members of, 182; admission of Fellows of, 182; second public meeting of the supporters of, 212; effects produced by the establishment of, 245; letters from candidates for the diplomas of, 246, 343; replies to questions relating to, 247, 389, 627; letter relating to, 256; progress of, 311; engagement of offices by the committee of, 379; letters relating to, and distinctions in the profession, 429; remarks on, and on the propriety of legislative interference with dispensing chemists and druggists, 476; opening of the offices of, 502; remarks on, with objections to the adoption universally of the title of Doctor, 687; remarks on the eleemosynary fund of, 688; on the power to expel members of, 703; postponement of the general examination of, 822.
London Hospital, disgraceful scene at, 252.
London Lying-in Hospital, proposal for opening it to medical students, 800.
London Medical Society, discussion at, on long-continued cases of paralysis, 78; proposed exclusion of Dr. Ramadge from, 211; his expulsion, 258.
Long, Mr. E., on the use of belladonna in spasmodic stricture of the urethra, 41.
Long the quack, letter in support of, by Dr. Ramadge, 81, 90, 154; letter from Dr. Ramadge avowing his support of, 122; letter from Mr. R. Salmon on the conduct of Dr. Ramadge, 130; reply of Dr. Ramadge, 284; remarks by Dr. M'Cabe on the trials of, 333.
Lugol, Dr., cases related by, illustrative of the powers of iodine in cutaneous scrofula, 684.
Lungs, case of miliary tubercles of, 53.
Lyons, Mr., his case of hydrocephalus with extraordinary precocity, 634, 807.

M

M'Cabe, Dr., remarks by, on the trial of Long the quack, 333.
M'Casker, Mr., on the communication of syphilis from secondary symptoms, 445; rapid mortification of the penis, 446.
Machinery, anatomical and obstetric, 285.
M'Grigor, Sir J., note respecting, 476.
Macmichael's pamphlet on the Cholera of India, review of, 801.
Manual of Materia Medica and Pharmacy, review of Davies's translation of Edwards and Vavasseur's, 580.
Mart, Mr., his case of breech presentation, 37.
Measles, Mr. Chinnock's cases of, 101; pathology and treatment of, 108.
Meath Hospital, remarks on, 560.
Meatus auditorius externus, case of poisoning by opium through the, 76.
Medical education and government in Ireland, letter from Mr. Carmichael explanatory of his views on, 460.
Medical education, Dr. Howison on botany and physiology as constituting a part of, 524.
Medical fees, proposed alteration of, in Dublin, 123; in Dublin, 255; lecturers, rules adopted by the Apothecaries' Company in the recognition of, 111; mission to Poland and Russia to report on the cholera, 286; politics, thoughts in India on, by Bendyshe, 27.
Medical reform, proceedings in the Court of King's Bench, instituted by the College Council against Mr. Wakley, Mr. Dermott, Mr. Walker, and Mr. King, 273; remarks on the conduct of Mr. Lawrence in the cause of, 533; Mr. Green on, 766.

Medicine, review of Moir's Ancient History of, 481; on the concealment of discoveries in, 484.
Menstruation, precocity in, 89; occurrence of, during hanging, 704, 751.
Mesenteric glands, cerebriform deposition in, with ulceration of intestines, 202.
Mercury, crude, in a vein, 104.
Mercurial unctions, epidemic erysipelas successfully treated by, 638.
Mica, application of, to analyses, 7.
Middlesex Hospital, "hole-and-corner" work at, 709.
Midwifery, review of Severn's First Lines of, 380; review of Waller's Elements of, 673.
Midwives, female, Dr. Weatherill on the employment of, 207.
Mineral waters, analysis of, 670.
Miskin, Mr., case of tetanus by, 172.
Moir's History of Medicine, review of, 481, 483, 484.
Mohomania, extraordinary case of, 135.
Monstrosity, Mr. Watt's case of, 226.
Morphia, new mode of preparing, 130.
Morphine, detection of nitric acid by, 5.
Morries, Dr., on elaterium, 131.
Mortification of the penis, case of, by Mr. M'Calker, 446.
Moss, Mr., case of spontaneous evolution by, 80.
Mudarine, Dr. Duncan on the singular properties of, 641.
Murders, Mr. Watson on the discovery of, by medico-legal investigations, 570.
Muriate of ammonia, discovery of mountains of, in China, 76.

N

Nagle, Dr., on the motions and sounds of the heart, 261.
Nauche, M., on the detection of pregnancy by chemical analysis, 675.
Naval surgeons in London, appeal to, 61; good feeling of his Majesty towards, 62; bad feeling of certain courtiers against, 62; note relating to, 125; and the Apothecaries' Act, 347; disclosure of the origin of the affront lately offered to, 442; attempt to levy a Burnett-green-tax on, 603, 831; knighthood of one, 661.
Navy, English, Sir Gilbert Blane on the state of health in, 40.
Neill, Mr. H., on the nitrate-of-silver ointment in gonorrhœa and chronic conjunctival inflammation, 523.
Nervous fluid, Mr. C. Searle on, 209; objections to the identity of, with the galvanic, 580, 728, 778.
Nettle-seed, mixture of, with flour, 231.
Neville's fracture apparatus, 280, 623.
Neuralgia of the heart, case of, 145.
Nicotine, the alkaloid, principle of tobacco, separation of, 8.
Nitrate of silver, unfitness of, as an ointment, 9; efficacy of, in gonorrhœa and chronic conjunctival inflammation, 523; Mr. J. Walker on the treatment of purulent ophthalmia with, 619.
Nitric acid, the detection of, by morphine, 5; a remedy for toothach, 632.
Nottingham Dispensary, election of medical officers at, 23.

O

Obscure case, Dr. Elliotson on one, 367.
Obstructions in the large intestine, Mr. Paty's instruments for, 651.
Oil, essential, mode of detecting the adulterations of, with turpentine, 7; extraordinary case of daily discharge of, from the bowels, 370.
Operation for the cure of vomica, 39; on Hoo Loo, 83, 86, 110, 171, 439; of lithotrity, 95, 173, 362, 487, 583; for excision of the elbow-joint, 98; for partial amputation of the foot, 99; for lithotomy, 100; for cancer of the tongue, 100; for the removal of an ulcerative disease of the rectum, 157; for popliteal aneurism, 168; taliacotian, by Dr. Bryce, for the restoration of the under lip, 269; of laryngotomy, 317; of amputation of the femur, 350; for gastrotomy, 424; for strangulated hernia, 636; in which the omentum was removed, 655; folly of giving Epsom salts after, 671; femoral hernia, 709; for prolapsus ani, followed by nearly fatal hæmorrhage, 655; severe, 741.
Opium, Dr. Clendinning on poisoning by, 65; case of poisoning by, through the ear, 76; successful employment of, in delirium tremens, 337; Dr. Elliotson on the good effects of, in chronic dysentery, conjoined with the sulphate of copper, 507; employment of, with mustard cataplasm in English cholera, 702.
Ophthalmia purulenta, treatment of, with the nitrate of silver, 619.
Orfila, M., on the detection of poisoning at long or short intervals after death, 72; on poisoning by arsenic, 318; on the poisonous qualities of acetic acid, 714; Barbet and Chevalier, important chemical decision of, in an erroneous charge of poisoning by arsenic, 679.
Osborne, Mrs., on the volpanic island, 806.
O'Shaughnessy, Dr., detection of several poisons in various articles of sugar confectionary, 193; speeches at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 218.
Œsophagus, instruments employed in strictures of, 630.
Osteo-sarcoma of the jaw, extirpation of, 575.

Ovarian, dropsy, Dr. Elliotson on, 299; tumour, cured by puncture, 603.
Oxalic acid, composition of, 171.

P

Palpitation, with dyspepsia, 296.
Palsy of the wrists from lead, 294.
Paralysis, discussion on cases of, 78; agitans, on a case of, 296; intermittens, Dr. Gowry's case of, 651.
Paris, expenses of medical education at, 284; concours for a professorship in, 284; price of subjects in, 348; appearance of an epidemic bronchitis in, 438; adjudication of the Monthyon prizes at, 602.
Parish abuses at Chelsea, 532, 634.
Parsons', Dr., review of the opinions of, on the effects of the effluvium of putrid animal matter, 353.
Pattison, Professor. (See London University.)
Paty, Mr., instrument of, for the treatment of obstructions in the large intestine, 681, 702.
Peacock, Mr., on the size of the sanguineous particles in the fœtus and mature age, 255; on the physiology of parasitic animals, 411.
Penis, rapid mortification of, 446.
Perineum, extraction of a calculus from, by excision, 381.
Peritonitis, chronic, Dr. Elliotson on, 144; puerperal, with phlebitis of the uterine veins, 383.
Perspiration, nocturnal, use of the white agaric in, 316.
Petrified child, birth of one, 487.
Pertussis, Mr. Whatton on, 520.
Phosphate of quinine, on the, 127.
Phosphorescence, cause of, 320.
Phosphorus, reduction of, to powder, 127.
Phrenology, Dr. Elliotson on, 136.
Phthisis, tubercular, cured by the inhalation of chlorine, 160; Sir C. Scudamore on the inhalation of iodine in, 189; pulmonalis, Dr. Elliotson on the inhalation of chlorine in, 198.
Physicians and druggists, on the connexion between, 315, 382, 832; and apothecaries, distinctions between, 414.
Piles, internal, Dr. Elliotson on, 296.
Pleuritis, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 296.
Pneumonia, supposed to arise from spinal irritation, 550.
Poisoned confectionary, Dr. O'Shaughnessy on, 293.
Poisoning by the powdered root of ipecacuanha, 33; by opium, 66, 76; by mouldy bread, 77; by sulphuric acid, 101; by alcohol, 282; by the sebacic acid of ignescent grease, 237; by arsenic, remarkable, 318, 580; by arsenic, supposed case of, 679; by acetic acid, 745; by table salt, 171.
Poisons, analysis of Ogilla's work on, 72.
Poland, medical mission to, from Russia, 286; medical news from, 374; cordon separating it from Prussia, 702.
Porrigo decalvans, case of, 57.
Potassium, cyanide of, Mr. Laming on the preparation of, 388.
Practice, pleasures of looking out for, 736.
Prater, Mr., case of hay-fever by, 448.
Prebble, Mr., case of fracture of the skull by, 701.
Precocity in menstruation, 39; extraordinary, accompanying hydrocephalus, cases of, 654, 736.
Pregnancy, medico-legal observations respecting ignorance of, 150; detection of, by chemical analysis, 675.
Preparation of morphia, 130.
Prolapsus ani, Mr. Fletcher on the treatment of, 611; ani, operation for, followed by excessive hæmorrhage, 655.
Provincial medical schools, account of, 542.
Prussic acid, Dr. Elliotson on the effects of, in gastrodynia, 291; on Mr. Clarke's formula for preparing, 473; Mr. Garner and Mr. Curtis, on the administration of, in cholera, 650, 698.
Psoriasis guttata, case of, 296.
Puerperal fever, Dr. Alexander's case of, with remarks, 1; peritonitis, cases of, treated at the Hotel Dieu, 233; with phlebitis of the uterine veins, 383.
Pulsation in the jugular veins, Mr. Hodges on, 409, 477.

Q

Quacks, consequence of upholding, 670.
Quain, Dr. and Mr. R., election of, at the London University, 572.
Quinine, phosphate of, on the, 127; sulphate of, mode of preparing, 239.

R

Radius, frequent dislocation forwards of the head of, 808.
Ramadge, Dr., letter from, to Long the quack, 84, 90, 154; defence of Mr. Brodie against the assertions of, 132; avowal of his support of Long the quack, 122; letter from Mr. Salmon relating to, 176; expulsion of, from the London Medical Society, 214, 241; note from, 224; refusal of Dr. Tweedie to consult with, 670.
Ramollissement of the brain, case of, 99.
Randell, Mr. H. K., cases of excessive injury to the skull and brain, by, 592; remarks of, on the existence of cholera in England, 811.
Rectum, ulcerative disease of the, removed by excision, 157; stricture of, 392.

Rabies, hydrophobic, a form, 140; proposals for obtaining a new one, 229.
Remuneration of medical practitioners remarks on, 30, 61.
Rennie's translation of Jourdan, 385.
Retina, morbid sensibility of, 369.
Review of Griffin's Translation of Rose's Chemistry, 33; of Leach's Selections from Gregory and Celsus, 85; of Cross's Lectiones Celsianæ, 86; of the Edinburgh Journal for April and July 1831, 101, 120, 677; of Simon on Excessive Venesection, 101; of the Glasgow Journal for May 1831, 225; of the Transactions of the Hamburgh Association, 257; of Evidence collected by M. Chevalet and others, in proof of the Innocuous Qualities of Effluvium arising from Putrid Animal Substances, &c., 321, 353; of Dr. Von Ammon's Journal of Ophthalmology, 320; of Knox on Cupping, 340; of Gray's Treatise on Pharmacology, 385; of Rennie's Translation of Jourdan's Pharmacopæia, 385; of Jochnichen's Memoir on the Cholera of Russia, 421; of Thackrah on the ill Effects of Manufacturing Operations on the Health of Workmen, 449; of Mayo on Temperament, 452; of Moir's Ancient History of Medicine, 481; of Hamilton's History of Medicine, Surgery, and Anatomy, 487; of Epps's Life of Walker, 488; of Bell on Cholera Asphyxia, 515; of Beale on Distortions of the Spine, 545; of Davies' Translation of Edwards's and Vavasseur's Manual of Materia Medica, 580; of Severn's First Lines of Midwifery, 580; of Thorn's Treatment of Sexual Diseases, 582; of Fletcher's Medico Chirurgical Notes, Part I, 609; of Bell on the Teeth, 615; of Spittal on Auscultation, 618; of Waller on Midwifery, 672; of Cocks on the Brain, &c., 678; of Syme on the Excision of Diseased Joints, 705; of Hawkins on the Cholera of Russia, 708; of Macmichael on Cholera Spasmodica, 801.
Rheumatic Neuralgia, Dr. Elliotson on, 67.
Rheumatism, Dr. Elliotson on various cases of, 201, 202, 203, 295, 296.
Robiquet, M., on the adulterations of strychnine, 67; on a new grey dye, 230.
Rose, Dr. G. H., case of English cholera related by, 536, 543.
Roget, Dr., made F. R. C. P., 507.
Russel Pasha Barry, Dr., on the European Cholera, 732.
Rynoch's preparations, remarks on, 487.
Ryan, Mr., prosecution of, by the Apothecaries' Company, report and remarks, 113, 161, 241, 245; motion to set aside the verdict, 120.

Sandwich, letters from, 15, 101, 225, 313, 414, 440, 766; in pharmacy, throughout this, singular case, 392.
Sage tea, virtues of, 476.
Salmon, Mr. F., letter from, 116.
Salt, poisonous, table of, 176.
Scapula, fracture of, 28.
Schmidt, Dr., on delirium tremens, 257.
Scott, Dr., his defence of the present to Sir W. Burnett, 732, 107, 829.
Scrofula, cutaneous, treatment of, by iodine, 692, 693, 718.
Scudamore, Sir C., on the inhalation of iodine in phthisis pulmonalis, 189.
Sea water, effects of, on food, 231.
Searle, Dr., on the nervous fluid, 299; his pamphlet on cholera, 767.
Semet, Mr., objections of, to Mr. Neville's fracture apparatus, 623.
Severn, Mr. C., on febrile diseases, 443; review of his work on Midwifery, 580.
Sexual Diseases, review of Thorn on, 582.
Sharkey, Dr., criticism by, on Sir H. Halford's lecture on gout, letter from, relating to the withholding of his announced mode of treating gout, 603; on the treatment of epilepsy, 695.
Shawls, soapy root for cleaning, 329.
Shea, Mr. D., letter from, 735.
Sheldrake, Mr., letter from, relating to the College of Surgeons, 24.
Shoulder joint, amputation at, 741.
Sienna, showers of earth at, 78.
Sight, extraordinary recovery of, 511.
Simon, Dr., on venesection, 101.
Simpson, Mr. W., on the operation on Hoo Loo, 110.
Simpson ats. Collier, trial of, 526, 563, 603, 635, 670.
Sinclair, Sir John, on sage tea, 478.
Skull, extensive injury of, with loss of brain, 312, 593; fracture of, with remarks on concussion, 701.
Sleigh v. Pope, 416.
Small-pox, solution of chlorine in, 329.
Smith, Mr. J., on the English cholera, 702.
Soda, chloride of, in dropsy, 250; sulphate of, made from turf ashes, 232.
Sounding for stone, Mr. Fletcher on, 611.
Spermatic chord, fungus hæmatodes of, 228.
Spinal irritation, Dr. Corrigan on, 164.
Spina bifida, Mr. Walker's case of, 476.
Spine, Beale on distortions of, 545.
Spittal on auscultation, review of, 618.
Spleen, Dr. Elliotson on a case of miliary tubercles of, 580.
Stafford, Mr., case of stricture of the urethra cured by the stilet, 1034.
St. George's Hospital, complaints from, 479.
St. Giles's, inquest in the parish of, 611.
St. James's Workhouse inquest at, 622.
Stokes, Dr., on a case of dilatation of the heart, 679.
Stomach pump, communications relating to, 80, 288, 400, 502, 631, 1006.

Students, letters from, 15, 191, 223, 313, 414, 446, 766; in pharmacy, throughout Ireland, appeal to, 38.
Strange, Dr., observations by, on the cholera morbus of India, 644.
Strangulation, Mr. Thomas on, 815.
Strasburg, medical education at, 284.
Stricture of the urethra, cured by the stilet, 132; of the rectum, Mr. Gowerton, 393; of the œsophagus, Mr. Fletcher on the instruments employed in, 610.
Strychnine, on the adulterations of, 6.
St. Vitus's dance, bad case of, 368.
Sugar, confectionary, Dr. O'Shaughnessy on the detection of gamboge, lead, copper, mercury, and chromate of lead, in various articles of, 193; extraordinary case of daily discharge of from the urinary passages, 570.
Sully, Dr., his case of ulceration and gangrene following typhus fever, 9.
Sulphate of quinine, economical mode of preparing, 230.
Sulphate of copper, good effects of, in chronic dysentery, 367.
Sulphureous waters, analysis of, 7.
Sulphuret of carbon, properties of, 320.
Sulphuric acid, poisoning by, 101.
Suspension during life, test for, 486.
Syme, Mr., on the re-union of bone in fracture, 97; case of fracture of the scapula by, 98; his cases of excision of the elbow-joint, and partial amputation of the foot, 99; on the alleged effects of removing a calculus by, 99; case of cancer of the tongue,—unusual operation for a calculus by, 100; review of, on excision of diseased joints, 705.
Syphilis, secondary, Mr. Lawrence on, 156; from secondary symptoms, 445.

T.

Tape-worm, remarkable change in the appearance of one, 622.
Tartar emetic, injection of, into the veins of a horse, 70.
Teething, convulsions from, 300.
Temperament, review of Mayo on, 452.
Testicle, diseased, effects of, on the cerebellum, 511.
Tetanus, traumatic, case of, 172; Larrey on the treatment of, 598.
Thackeray, Dr., on the blood of the vena portæ, 940.
Thackrah, review of, on the ill effects of manufacturing operations, 449.
Thomas, Mr. U., case of delirium tremens by, 522; on the nature and treatment of burns and scalds, 554, 587; case of inflammation by, 730; essay on blisters by, 770, 814.
Thomson, Dr. A. T., election of, at the London University, 693; letter of, relative to Dr. Pattison, 748; on Sexual Diseases, review of, 882.
Thorn on Sexual Diseases, review of, 882.
Tibia, singular case of disease of, 352.
Tilley, Dr., on the case of Hood, 1113.
Tobacco, separation of nicotine from, 8.
Tongue, excision for cancer of, 100.
Toothach, nitric acid in, 682.
Tracheotomy, in hooping-cough, 704.
Tubercles, miliary, Dr. Elliotson on the seat of, 53; Dr. Elliotson on the situation and general structure of, 55.
Tumour, scrotal, removal of, from Hood, 86; encysted, of the breast, mistaken for scirrhus, 236; scrotal, ended by repeated incisions and setons, 207; case of, in the groin, 317; ovarian, cured by puncture and iodine injections, 603; of the scrotum, Mr. Eliot's case of successful removal of a, 823.
Tumours, scrofulous and scirrhous, M. Cotterean on the employment of the iodaret of lead in, 607.
Turf ashes, sulphate of soda from, 232.
Turner, Dr., letter of, relative to the dismissal of Mr. Pattison, 744.
Turpentine, solidification of, by calcined magnesia, 6; essence of, adulterations of essential oils with, 7.
Tweedie, Dr., refusal of, to meet Dr. Ramadge in consultation, 670.
Typhus fever, Dr. Sully's case of, 9.

U.

Ulcer, carcinomatous, of the eye, cured by the deuto-iodaret of mercury, 607.
University of London, Mr. Brae's defence of the students of, 15; resignation of the warden of, 123; temporary appointment of Dr. Watson to the medical chair of, 149; erection of a bust at, to the memory of Professor Bennett, 192; hints to the Council of, in the election of new professors, 209; election of Dr. Elliotson to the medical chair of, 250; distribution of prizes at, 282; ruinous proceedings of the Council of, 341; requisition to the Council of, 378; remarks on the dissensions in the medical school of, 470; meeting of the proprietors of, 471; prospect of a speedy conclusion to the dissentions at, 502; election of Messrs. Quain to chairs in, 572; dismissal of Professor Pattison from, 673; candidate for the chair of surgery in, 632; its triumph over the attacks of its calumniators, 689; practicability and probable cost of attaching a hospital to, 691; necessity of electing medical officers by public concours at, 693; statement relative to, by Mr. Pattison, 694; elections of Mr. S. Cooper and Dr. A. T. Thomson at, 695; examination of Mr. Pattison's statement, 721, 753, 785; justification of the Council of, 733; letters of Drs. Turner and Thomson relative to Mr. Pattison's dismissal, and Mr. Pattison's reply, 744, 748, 825; meeting of the court of the proprietors of, 757; reply to Mr. Pattison's charges against Mr. Elsdell, 763; reply of Mr. Pattison to the letter of Dr. Turner, 825.

Urethra, stricture of, belladonna in, 41; cure of, by the stilet, 132.
Urethritis, tincture of iodine in, 127.
Urinals, want of, in London, 112.
Uterus, hour-glass contraction of, 37.
Uterine fœtation, extra, Dr. Wagstaff's case of, 386.

V

Vaccine institutions in London, Dr. Epps on, 331; controversy respecting, 416, 473, 558, 769.
Vaccination, Dr. Howison on, 494.
Vagina, obliteration of, by sulphuric acid, to produce abortion, 38; imperforate, Mr. Fletcher's case of, 613.
Vanadium, a newly-discovered metal, 125.
Vance, Mr., refuted charge against, 64.
Vein, crude mercury in one, 104.
Vena basilica, inflammation of, singularly treated, 160; portæ, examination of the blood in, 540.
Venesection, review of Simon on, 161; Mr. Severn on injudicious, 443.
Vomica, operation for the cure of, 39.

W

Wagstaffe, Dr., case of extra-uterine fœtation by, 386.
Wakley, Mr., speech of, at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 218; slanderous report of his having apologised to the College Council, 663.
Walker, Mr. G., speech of, at the second meeting of the supporters of the London College of Medicine, 215.
Walker, Mr., case of spina bifida by, 475.
Walker, Dr., review of Epps's life of, 448.
Walker, Mr. J., on the treatment of purulent ophthalmia with the nitrate of silver, 619.
Waller, Mr., speech of, at the second meeting of the London College of Medicine, 212; presentation of his obstetrical prize, with remarks on its disposal, 224, 286, 316, 447; review of his Elements of Midwifery, 673.
Waring, Mr., remarks by, on the treatment of cholera, with cases, 809.
Warsaw, medical disputes at, 633.
Watson, Mr., letter from, containing the rules adopted at Rhubarb Hall, in the recognition of medical lecturers, 111; note from, relative to the publication of licentiates' names, 633.
Watson, Mr., on a new mode of putting up anatomical preparations, 129.
Watson, Mr., on the discovery of murders by medico-legal investigation, 579.
Watt, Mr., case of monstrosity by, 226.
Weatherill, Dr., on the employment of female midwives, 267; remarks by, on an inquest at Liverpool, 500; his case of excision of the cervix uteri, 526.
Weiss, Mr., and his stomach-pump, 400, 606; employment of his dilator, 699.
Westminster Hospital, broken promises at, 313, 404, 446; case of English cholera at, 543.
Westminster Medical Society, debates at, 93, 104, 124.
Whatton, Mr., on the pathology and treatment of hooping-cough, 520.
White, Mr., on Indian cholera, 478.
Wills, Mr., 832.
Wilson, Mr., cases of cholera by, 657.
Winslow, Mr. F., case of ramollissement of the brain by, 29; case of hydrocephalus by, 735; inquiry from, 807.
Whittaker, Mr., on frequent dislocations of the head of the radius forwards in children, 808.
Wittstock, M., on the new crystalline substance called columbine, 6.
Worms, thread, Dr. Elliotson on a case of, 293.
Wright, Mr., on deafness, 412, 464, 498, 566, 623.

Y

Yeatman, Mr. J. C., suggestions by, for regulating the medical attendance on paupers, 151.

Z

Zais, Dr., successful operation of gastrotomy performed by, 424.

8123 f

Printed by Mills, Jowett, and Mills, Bolt Court, Fleet Street.